

Official Forestry Demonstration

An enlightening talk on the benefits of growing shelter belts and windbreaks around farm homes was given Wednesday evening by Alex Paton in charge of the Tree Planting Car next to the C.P.R. depot.

The car, which is sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association, was on display last Wednesday night with valuable information on all phases of horticulture.

In his talk, Mr. Paton stated shelterbelts advantageous in many ways, a saving in the fuel bill, protection from cold winter winds, and an encouragement to birds which will keep down insect pests.

Windbreaks, he explained also offered many benefits, prime among which was the holding in place of the valuable top soil which is often blown away. The importance of holding water in the soil and the part trees can play in this was demonstrated by Mr. Paton when he pointed out that it has been proven that the water table has risen as much as fifty feet away from windbreaks.

He said that formerly tree planting had been quite an ordeal with the work of having to be done by hand or plow.

Today, however, with modern tree planting equipment it is possible to plant 2000 trees or more in one hour, and he added, "about 95 per cent of these trees will thrive."

Outlining the types of trees best suited to different soil and growing conditions, Mr. Paton claimed the most common mistake made by planters was allowing the roots to dry out before planting.

Films shown were: Skyline Trail, Fishing the Last Frontier, The World At Your Feet, Prairie Home, and a short film on Trees at Indian Head.

Large Crowd at Fish & Game Picnic

The Fish and Game Association held their annual Barbecue and Picnic on Sunday, July 31st at the Rearing Ponds at the Raven.

The association consists of executive members of the Fish and Game Association of the towns of Olds, Innisfail, Dickson, Bowden, Didsbury and Carstairs. About 500 pounds of prime beef was barbecued and money is raised by the sale of sandwiches, pop, ice cream, etc. The profit is given away in prizes for competition, mostly to children and also used to cover the expenses involved in putting on the picnic and improvements to the rearing ponds. Between 1,500 and 2,000 people attended the Barbecue. The Department of Fisheries set aside a pond with 30 trout in it for children under 16 years of age to fish at.

The president of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, Mr. Curt Smith of Wetaskiwin, paid honor to an old timer in the Fish and Game. Mr. Garfield Thompson of Mound, who for many years was the Fisheries Officer at the Raven Rearing Ponds. One of the booths was named after Garfield Thompson.

The Fish and Game Commissioner of the province, Mr. Eric Huestis of Edmonton, praised the men who put on the picnic and expressed the wish that it be continued.

Certificates of merit were presented by Mr. Ralph Albert, Olds, representative of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, to the following:

L. Klein, Didsbury; Kenneth McCoy, Didsbury; R. D. Zilm, Manopore.

The Barbecue meat was deliciously done by the cooks, Ken McCoy of Didsbury and Hugo Rosenberger of Olds. The Master of Ceremonies was Elmer Kue, Dickson. President Hugo Rosenberger of Olds.

Carrots, cabbage, and onions, Mrs. C. A. Lewis; beets, lettuce, green peas and tomatoes, Mrs. O. D. Milne; cauliflower, Larry Platz; green beans, Mrs. Lois Roberts; Potatoes, turnips, Mrs. John Wesley; apples, N. A. Dyck.

Light Gladioli, Medium Gladioli, unnamed gladioli, B. Haste; mixed gladioli, panies, sweet peas, Dahlias, asters, mixed garden flowers, Mrs. John Wesley; roses, N. A. Dyck.

The farm equipment and automotive display attracted much attention as did the fine display of pioneer and modern pictures which were arranged on the walls in the waiting room of the arena.

One unfortunate incident occurred during the fire department's display of fire-fighting equipment. Ray Johnson, a member of the brigade and playing the part of a clown, was badly burned when a small building was ignited while he was inside. It was all part of the show but Ray was unable to escape in time and the nylon suit he was wearing just disappeared and he sustained burns to his face, arms and legs. It is expected he will be hospitalized for about a month.

In the evening Bingo took the spotlight and the two $50 banknotes were won by Carmen Stevens and Mary Lou Currie.

There were a lot of loved people after the day was over but on the whole it was a good day's outing for everyone who attended.

SECURITY ! ! !

A wonderful advertisement by a business concern showed a family in Church, joining in a hymn. The question under the picture read: "What makes a family secure?" And the answer was given: "A lot of things go to make it up. Things like a cool hand at night on a child's hot forehead . . . little private jokes that wouldn't mean much outside the family. Affectionate teasing in closeness, warmth, a sense of sharing . . . the deep, underlying knowledge that you belong."

Just a smile when the road seems hard,
Just a laugh in the gloom;
Just a hope, when the soul seems scared,
Like a light in a darkened room.
Just the touch of a tender hand,
And a son, and a bit of prayer;
Just the courage to understand,
And the heart to truly care!

Dramatic Proof of Chevrolet's Success!
Everywhere in Canada, consistently, more Chevrolet cars are sold than those of any other manufacturer. And now, to a greater extent than ever before, the 1955 Chevrolet is the favorite of Canadians from coast to coast.

This Is Important To You!

Because Chevrolet builds so many more cars, each one costs less to make. That's the simple, provable effect of volume production. And this saving is passed on to you in the form of more value, and more features for the money than you can get with any other car on the market. Also, compare Chevrolet's prices and you'll know for sure at least one reason why so many more people buy Chevrolet year after year — especially this year.

Day by day, Chevrolet gains in popularity... value... sales!

Money - Sin Or Blessing ?

What's wrong with making money?
Plenty — say the leftists.

What the leftists forget is that money is merely the yardstick of a nation's economic strength and prosperity. Real wealth, on which economic strength and prosperity depend, lies in the number of industrial plants, railway systems, mines and forest industries actively engaged in producing the goods and services people want or need.

Such wealth depends on the ability and willingness of people to save and invest in the creation of new industries capable of producing better goods and services at less cost.

Governments cannot create wealth. They can and do distribute for consumption through taxation money that would otherwise be saved and invested in the creation of new wealth-producing industries.

It follows, therefore, that governments which impose taxes heavier than what is necessary to provide such essential state services as defence actually hinder the growth of a nation's economic strength and impair its prosperity.

IF THERE WERE DREAMS TO SELL

If there were dreams to sell,
What would you buy?
Some cost a passing bell;
Some a light sigh,
That shakes from Life's fresh crown
Only a rose-leaf down.
If there were dreams to sell,
Merry and sad to tell,
And the Crier rang the bell,
What would you buy?
A cottage lone and still,
With bowers high,
Shadowy, my woes to still,
Until I die
Such pearl from Life's fresh crown
Fain would I shake me down.
Were dreams to have at will,
This would best heal my ill.
This would I buy
—Thomas Lovell Beddoes.

A famous psychiatrist conducting a university course in psycho-pathology was asked by a student, "Doctor, you've told us about the abnormal person and his behavior—but what about the normal person?"
"When we find him," replied the psychiatrist, "we cure him."

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

Low areas of the farm are valuable if fully utilized, they can produce substantial quantities of hay or pasture. In late summer many of these depressions are free of water and arid enough to allow the use of tillage machinery. This is the time to break up the native growth and prepare for late fall seeding of forage crops.

Reed Canary Grass is ideal for situations where prolonged flooding occurs and alkali is not a problem. This grass can stand at least seven weeks of flooding after it has become established. Alsike clover, though it will not persist under excessive flooding, is superior to other legumes for non-alkaline wet locations. Tall Wheat Grass, while it is coarse and produces only fair forage, is tolerant of alkali.

The recommended seeding rates for the pasture mixture are Reed Canary 5 lbs. per acre and Alsike Clover 2 lbs. per acre. Hay rates are Reed Canary, 4 lbs. and Alsike 3 lbs. Some timothy may be added to the mixture as it does well where moisture is plentiful. This timothy will make the hay much easier to cure.

As with other forage planting a firm seed bed is required and depth of seeding should be no greater than 1/2 inch and legume seed should be inoculated.

LUTHERAN LADIES HOLD MEETING

Redeemer Lutheran Ladies Aid held its regular meeting in the church basement, Thursday, August 11th, with 13 members present. In the absence of Rev. Fox, the President, Mrs. E. Pieper conducted a short devotional period.

The society decided to hold an ice-cream social on Saturday, September 3, from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. If weather permits, this will be outdoors, on the lawn between the church and parsonage. The general public is invited.

An interesting 5-minute talk entitled "Are you a good visitor?" was given by Mrs. O. Paas.

The meeting adjourned with the Lord's Prayer spoken in unison. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. O. Paas and Mrs. R. Goetjen.

GRIN AND SHARE IT

A tourist spending the night in a small town joined a group of men sitting on the porch of the general store. After several vain attempts to start a conversation, he finally asked, "Is there a law against talking in this town?"

"No law against it," answered one, "but there's an understanding that no one's to speak unless he's sure he can improve on silence."

Helping Young Farmers . . .

One of the most difficult problems facing farm young people in Canada today is that of becoming established on their own farms. The amount of capital required has risen to such a degree that unless the young man can take over his father's land or receive assistance from him, the chances of securing sufficient land and machinery to make up an economic unit are small. No form of credit is readily available to the young man who has little security with the result that the majority of land that is being sold is going to the larger operators. There is a continued drift of farm young people to the cities, a steady increase in the average size of farms and a gradual increase in the size of the average farm.

Many presentations have been made by farmers and farm organizations calling upon federal or provincial government to set up an agency to make long-term loans to young farmers at a low rate of interest. Not so long ago the Alberta government indicated an interest in the matter.

In Quebec, however, such an agency has been in operation since 1937. The primary function of the Quebec Farm Credit Bureau is to grant loans to farmers for a long term at a very low interest rate (2.5 per cent). The fact that loans may be made up to 75 per cent of the property's value encourages the purchase of new farms and enables young farmers to become established.

Since its inception $104 million has been loaned of which about $55 million has gone to enable farmer's sons to become established on new land. Last year alone over $8 million went for this purpose. The fact that since 1937 losses have amounted to only $691 or less than 7 cents on every $10,000 loaned is an indication of the soundness of the plan and the reliability of the borrowers. Alberta farmers look forward to the establishment of the similar plan here in Alberta.

TIME OUT

Two inveterate golf bugs had just landed on the 12th green of their club course when a funeral procession slowly wound its way past them on the adjoining highway.

One of the golfers respectfully doffed his cap and bowed his head until the cortege disappeared.

"That was a nice gesture, George," said the other golfer. "I had no idea you were so sentimental."

George picked up his putter and carefully measured the distance to the hole.

"Well, it was the least I could do," he said. "Two more days and we would have been married 25 years."

GRANDMAS MORE WELCOME !

A mother, asked if she had yet made the long trip across the country to visit her son and his new wife, replied: "No, I've been waiting until they have their first baby."

"You don't want to spend the money until then?"

"No," the wise lady explained. "It's just that I have a theory that grandmas are more welcome than mother-in-law."

CUT THAT WEED MARGIN: As travel about the district I see where many farmers have done an excellent job of working their summer fallow. I am, however, sorry to see so often that along the margin of the fields close up to the fence is a heavy weed growth.

It seems too bad to put in a lot of time killing weeds in the field and permit these weeds along the margin of the field to go to seed and then to have the wind carry these ripened seeds over the summer fallowed fields to re-infest an otherwise clean piece of ground. Don't you agree that this is a poor policy?

Clean up those edges, fence lines, headlands, patches in the pasture fields etc., and make the job complete while you are at it. It may mean spending a few hours with a mower or even a scythe but it will be time well spent. In the case of perennial sow thistle, it is not too late in the season to use 2-4-D to good advantage with a knapsack sprayer.

Make the solution strong, use 1 pint 2-4-D to 3 gallons of water and give the patches a careful going over. I have seen these troublesome weeds completely eliminated with this kind of treatment at this time of the year.

Many of you have an excellent growth of "Smartweed" in your cropland. This weed has been very difficult to control with 2-4-D. I am glad to report to you that in a number of cases this year we have experienced very good results from the use of Lo-Volatile 2-4-D at only 8 ounces per acre.

New Ministers
For Prov. Cabinet

Announcing the biggest cabinet re-shuffle since Social Credit came to power in Alberta in 1935, Premier Manning named Fred C. Colburne as the first Calgary representative on the provincial executive since the death of Premier Aberhart in 1943. Mr. Colburne becomes a minister without portfolio, after refusing a department because of private business ties.

Other new ministers are:

Allen R. Patrick (Lacombe), minister of economic affairs, to succeed Hon. A. J. Hooke who becomes minister of municipal affairs and provincial secretary.

Raymond Reinson (St. Paul), minister of industries and labor, to succeed Hon. N. A. Willmore who becomes minister of lands and forests.

James Hartley (Fort Macleod), minister of public works, to succeed Mr. Hooke who held the dual appointment with economic affairs.

Premier Manning himself takes over as attorney-general, replacing Hon. Lucien Maynard, who was defeated in the June election. He now holds the three top posts of premier, attorney-general and minister of mines and minerals.

From municipal affairs Hon. E. W. Hinman goes to provincial treasurer.

Hon. N. A. Willmore becomes minister of lands and forests, replacing Hon. Ivan Casey, defeated in the Okotoks-High River riding in June.

Mr. Hooke will be minister of municipal affairs and provincial secretary, succeeding Hon. C. E. Gerhart, also defeated.

The four new cabinet ministers were sworn in recently. The three new ministers with departments and all others with new portfolios including the premier, also took the oath in respect of their appointments.

The Alberta legislature assembles August 17 with a government caucus scheduled for the previous day.

Standing in the house now is Social Credit, 37; Liberal, 15; Progressive Conservative, 3; C.C.F., 2; Liberal-Progressive Conservative, 1; Coalition, 1; Independent 1; Independent Social Credit, 1.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How understanding of divine Mind's government of man brings health and harmony into daily experience will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "MIND" includes the account from the King James Version of the Bible of Christ Jesus' healing of the man afflicted of leprosy (Luke 5).

Among the correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (180:25-27): "When a man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible." The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (2:16): "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?"

DISTRICT NEWS

New Eyes For The Needy !!!

Every year, a small group of dedicated women, banded together in an organization known as New Eyes For The Needy, write a memorable record in construction service to mankind. Their particular province: the giving of improved sight to thousands of people around the world. All of this has been accomplished without asking for a cent of money.

In the past year alone, over 18,000 sufferers from impaired sight have been helped by this Short Hills, New Jersey organization, founded in 1932 by Mrs. Julia Ward Terry. Each year has seen its contributions to humanity grow, until this writing the record of its accomplishments occupies a distinctive, and unduplicated, niche in the history of American charitable organizations.

The tools with which New Eyes for the Needy works are remarkable in themselves. Old and discarded eye-glasses and frames, sent to New Eyes by the thousands of donors, help to make possible the new eyes that are distributed by this organization in a steady and endless stream.

But this is not all: any old piece of discarded jewelry, or an outworn dental filling made of gold or silver, can be converted by these Short Hills women into the dollars that pay not only for new eyeglasses and frames, but also for artificial eyes.

In a typical month, New Eyes for the Needy may process as many as 17,000 old eyeglasses and frames, so that they may, in turn, make available improved sight for as many as 1,500 grateful people. Through their selfless, devoted efforts, the women of this organization last year converted discarded metal framed eyeglasses, jewelry, and dentures into the dollars that were in turn expended for the better sight that another 18,000 people now enjoy.

But it is not only the metal frames which are used. The plastic glasses are set aside and classified according to their various categories. Simple magnifying and nearsighted glasses, sunglasses, cataract glasses and good frames are distributed for re-use through hospitals, missions and welfare organizations at home and as far away as the Philippines, India and Africa.

The spirit which motivates this remarkable organization can be no better expressed than in the words of its last year's President when, in her annual report, she said:

"I wish to thank all of you who have helped New Eyes. Your reward for long hours of service is the knowledge of having brought better vision to so many, many handicapped people. This is my reward also, and certainly it is more than enough."

In their turn, the people who have been helped by New Eyes for the Needy are valuable and gratefully articulate in their thanks. Blessings have been poured on this organization by the Sisters in Port au Prince whose orphanages charges have been made to see clearly again. A dedicated eye surgeon in Africa's hinterlands has written feelingly of the help New Eyes has extended to his patients. A little girl in Okinawa writes careful penmanship about how, for the first time in her few years, she can now see the beauties of the world around her.

Nor the priceless work of New Eyes focused exclusively on helping the unfortunate in other countries. Currently, New Eyes maintains 31 standing funds in various hospitals each of these funds provides better throughout the United States, and vision to hundreds of handicapped Americans each year.

Of all man's senses, sight is considered by him the most precious, yet good sight for those who do not have is must always be paid for by someone. This year, over 20,000 people will enjoy the benefits of improved vision because the women who staff New Eyes for the Needy have paid in countless hours of gladly donated work. Yet, even this would not be enough without the steady flow of contributions to this organization, in the form of old glasses and frames, discarded jewelry, and ancient dental fillings. To keep this endless flow of raw materials on its way to New Eyes, many inspired people work unnoticed, but rewarded fully in the satisfaction of knowing they have done their part.

Operated under the auspices of the Short Hills Junior Service League, New Eyes for the Needy welcomes contributions from all who want to help. Even the oldest and most battered eyeglasses or frames are gratefully received. All that is required to make your contribution is a package addressed to: "NEW EYES THE NEEDY, INC., SHORT HILLS, NEW JERSEY."

MORE PEOPLE
Since June 1945, the number of people in Canada has risen 29.2%. Ontario and Quebec had the largest share of the rise in the past year. Total population of Canada is now 15.8 millions.

FIRST RAIN MAKER

Back in the nineties a patent was issued for an irrigating device consisting of a balloon, perforated water pipes . . . and an active farmer to haul the whole contraption along by its guy ropes.

Today, of course, irrigation is a lot easier proposition. Aluminum irrigation tubing, for instance, can be laid, lifted, moved about with the greatest ease. With it one man can water more land than an army of balloon operators. Shows how lightweight, low-cost aluminum (Canada is the world's most efficient producer of the metal) makes a simple job out of a tough one.

The Ballad Of Blackleg Bart

When Blackleg Bart
Got ready to start
Out on his rustling strike,
He sent a telegram
To Shippin' Fever Sam
And Malignant Edema Mike.
He said, "Let us all
Get together this Fall
And roam the range far and near."
We won't quit, by Tophet,
Till each cattleman's profit
Is stolen away for the year!
"We'll lay them calves low
In one all-out blow;
Boys, this is the season we'll live!"
And you mark my words—
We'll run through them herds
Like branchwater down through a sieve!"
So the three hit the trail:
They was aiming to nail
Onto each little calf in sight—
But lo and behold!

The ranchers'd been told
That the rustlers was riding
the night.
In one full scale push
They set an ambush
And the rustlers, I must confess,
Lost out in the wrangle
When they started to tangle
With Blackleg "S-HS".
For the ranchers was smart
And right at the start
They'd given all of their bees
A three-in-one shot
Of the vaccine that's got
The ruin sign on those thieves.
So the dark hargman's art
Was practiced on Bart
And his Malignant Edema friend;
And Shippin' Fever a while
Was in duration vile—
And that, cowboys, was the end.
